THE FRIENDLY LEAGUE OF JEWISH WOMEN

The Friendly League of Jewish Women begs to present a statement of some of its activities during the first year of its existence in the hope that the readers of this booklet will consider the work worthy of support and will generously become members of the League and assist as helpers or teachers at the Welfare Club, or contribute to the funds.

The publication of this booklet was only made possible by the cooperation of the business firms whose names appear in the advertisements on the pages opposite the account of this organization.

The advertisements were secured by a committee in whose willing efforts we see the truest spirit of the Friendly League.

The Friendly League of Jewish Women.

The Friendly League of Jewish Women was organized in the spring of 1913 for the purpose of bringing into the lives of self-sustaining young women opportunities for moral, mental, physical and social improvement, and also to help young girls and women wherever necessary.

It had its origin at a meeting of ladies held in the House de B'nai B'rith Institute, upon the invitation of Mrs. J. Goldstein. The need of organized effort in behalf of young girls and women was discussed and it was unanimously decided that the ladies should especially interest themselves in those young girls and women whose parents yield them but a hard living and who in consequence are denied opportunities for self-improvement and refinement of character.

An organization was then formed and the drafting of the constitution and by-laws was left to the newly appointed chairman, Mrs. Channah I. de Sola. At a subsequent largely attended meeting, the constitution and by-laws were adopted and the following officers were elected:

The Executive unanimously agreed to immediately create a club for girls, to be similar to the Friendly Club of Cleveland, where the members are chiefly gathered from factory workers.

Mrs. Clarence E. de Soto, who was one of the organizers and a past president of the Friendly Club of Cleveland, kindly undertook the work of establishing the new club along these lines.

It was unanimously agreed to employ as superintendent Miss Kay Fries, a former teacher and social worker of London. "The Welfare Club for Working Girls" was formed a reality, and the most important committee of the Friendly League of Jewish Women undertook their duties. Among those who participated in the Friendly Committee, formed for the purpose of aiding and befriending the regular girls. Another committee advised, befriended and aided those who have been unfortunate in the past and by personal influence tried to help these young women to better ways of living and thinking.
